Status of ornamental fish farming in India (domestic / national market) India is still in a marginal position just contributing 1% of total ornamental fish trade. An estimate carried out by Marine Products Exports Development Authority of India shows that there are one million ornamental fish hobbyists in India. Ornamental fish farming Is an important aspect of aquaculture. It is the practice of breeding and raising colorful fish varieties of various species for commercial purposes. This is mainly carried out by professional farmers and hobbyists.

There are two main types of aquarium fish. They are live bearers and egg layers. Ornamental fish farming can become a good source of profit for the farmers. Along with this, it can also provide employment to people on a large scale. Most of the ornamental fishes in our country are reared in North East India:Ornamental fish culture is the culture of attractive, colorful fishes of various characteristics, which are reared in a confined aquatic system. Farmers and hobbyists mainly grow it. Ornamental fishes are also known as living jewels. There are more than 30,000 fish species reported around the world, of this about 800 belong to ornamental fishes. Most of the ornamental fishes survive in fresh water. They come under eight closely related families namely, Anabantidae, Callichthyidae, Characidae, Cichlidae, Cobitidae, Cyprinodontidae, Cyprinidae and Poeciliidae

Report

Department of English organized Certificate Course on “Spoken English” for I B.Com - I Semester students. In this course 80 students enrolled. It is conducted from 01-9-2021 to 26-10-2021 for 60 hours. The duration of the class is one and half hour i.e 4.40pm to 6.10pm after the regular class work. The resource persons for this are K.Venkata Lakshmi and S.L Lalitha Kumari. We provided study material to the enrolled students. The main aim of this course is to enable the students to speak English fluently and improve their conversation and communication skills. We have started this course to instruct and guide the students’ right from the basic diagnosis of individual pronunciation to refining one’s communication and conversational skills.

In the middle of the course we conducted two internal examinations and towards the end of the course a Grand Test was conducted. Many students have scored good marks and proved that they have learned well. Certificates were issued to those students who were regular and scored 40% of marks in the 3 exams we conducted.

This course provides intelligible pronunciation, stress and intonation patterns and improves their comprehensive listening skills. It enhances vocabulary skills by giving control on English grammar.

Now they are able to pronounce English phonemes correctly. They gained speaking skills and are able to communicate effectively. They are using appropriate greetings and invitation phrases. They are able to describe pictures, narrate small stories and participate in group discussion and jam sessions.
