Accounting Nature, Scope, Principles, Concepts and Conventions. Accounting is an ancient art at the old as money itself, however, the role accounting has been changing with the economic and social developments the traditional view of accounting as historical description of financial is no longer acceptable. Until recently accounting was regarded merely as an art of recording classifying and sum acceptable. Until recently accounting was regarded merely as an art of recording classifying was regarded as "the process of identifying, measuring and communiciting economic information to permit informed judgements and decisions by users of the information." Most of the business these davisions by joint stock companies and these are required by law to prepare periodical, mostly, annual statements in proper from showing the state of financial affairs. A systematic record of daily events of a business leading to presentation of a complete financial picture is known as accounting or, in its elementary stages as book-keeping.

The accounting systems are believed to have existed as early as 4500 B.C. in the ancient civilisations of Babylonia and Assyria. The double entry system of today was propounded first in Genoa (Italy) in 1340. Though the system of double- entry book- keeping was used earlier too but it developed in a proper from only at the end of 15th century. Fra Luco Pacioli, an Italian, wrote a first treatise on double - entry system in 1494.

Financial accounting may be defined as the science and art of recording and classifying business transactions and preparing summaries of the same for determining year and profit or loss and the financial position of the concern.

Functions of Financial Accounting:

- ★ Recording of information
- ★ Classification of data.
- ★ Making summaries.
- ★ Dealing with financial transactions.
- ★ Interpreting financial information.
- ★ Communicating results.
- ★ Making information more reliable.

Accounting principles: Accounting is an art and science of recording business transactions in a systematic manner. To convey the language of business certain principles are required to be followed for maintaining business transactions.

According to terminology committee of AICPA, "the word principle is used to mean a general lar or law or rule adopted or preferred as a guide to action a settled ground or basis of conduct or practie".

Accounting concepts: The term accounting concepts is used to cannot basic accounting postulate i.e. neccessary assumptions and conditions upon which accounting is based. Some of the important accounting concepts are as follows.

- ★ Business entity concept
- ★ Going concern concepts
- ★ The cost concept
- ★ Dual aspect concept
- ★ Money measurement concept
- ★ Accounting period/ Accrual concept
- ★ Realisation concept
- ★ Matching of cost and revenue concept

The International Accounting Standards Committee (IASC) of which the Institute of Chartered $A_{COUNTANTS}$ of India (ICAI) is an associate member, treats going concern, consistency and accrual as the fundamental assumptions. The Indian Institute, in its own standard (ASI) has affirmed the three undamantal accounting assumptions.

Accounting conventions: Accounting conventions are the traditions, usage and customs which use since long. The most important conventions which have been in use are disclosure consisiency, conservation and materiality.

Limitations of financial Accounting: The financial accounting is mainly concerned with the preparation of final accounts, i.e. profit and loss account and balance sheet. The management needs infornation for planning, controlling and co-ordinating business activities.

- * Historical Nature.
- * Provides information about the concern as a whole.
- * Not helpful in price fixation.
- * Cost control not possible.
- * Appraisal of policies not possible.
- * Only actual costs recorded.
- * Not helpful in taking strategic decisions.
- * Technical subject.
- * Quantitative information.
- * Lack of unaminity about accounting principles
- * Chances of manipulation.

Recording Systems: There are two systems for recording transactions. They are single entry system and double entry system. Single entry system sound and economical but is really costly because it is rather a lack of system. The only real system is the double entry system. This system recognises the fundamental fact that a transaction as a double - sided affair.

Cash and Mercantile System: In the cash system of accounting entries are made only when cash is received or paid, no entry being made when a payment or receipt is merely due. In the mercantile system, a record is made on the basis of amounts having become due for payment or receipt.

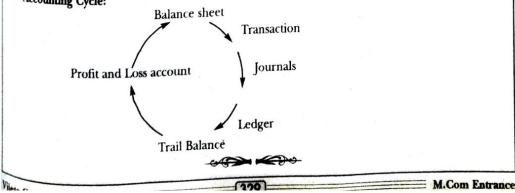

Accounts and Rules: Accounts are divided into three types.

- * Personal Account
- * Real Account
- * Nominal Account.

The three basic rules about recording transactions are.

- ★ Debit the receiver and credit the giver.
- * Debit what comes in and credit what goes out.
- * Debit all expenses (and losses) and credit all incomes (and gains)
- Branches of Accounting:
- * Financial Accounting
- ★ Cost Accounting
- * Management Accounting.

Accounting Cycle:

It is customary for a bank to send to its customer regularly a statement showing how his account stands. Usually, there is a regualr title book through which the bank informs the customer as to what balance he has at the bank. This is the pass book. It contains a copy of the customer's account at the bank. It stands to reason that the balance shown by the pass book should agree with the bank balance shown by the Cash book. However often there is a difference even if there is no mistake. The difference is due to the following reason.

- * Cheques recorded in cash book but not yet credited by bank.
- * Cheques issued but not yet presented for payment.
- ★ Bank charges.
- * Direct collection by bank.
- * Payments by bank as per standing instructions.

These delays do not ordinarily matter, as sooner or latter, both the bank and the client will make entries. However, to know the position clearly and to be sure that no mistakes have been committed, there must be a statement to explain why there is a difference between the balance shown by the pass book and that shown by the cash book on a particular date. The statement is known as bank reconciliation statement. It shoud be prepared every month the least. Preparation of a bank reconciliation statement is a very important control technique.

Generally cash book shown as a debit balance as well as bank pass book shown as credit balance.

Bills of exchange: A good deal of trade and commerce these days is arrived on, on the basis of written promises to pay a definite sum of money. The promises can be passed on from one person to another. Such written promises are known as negotiable instruments (or even as bills of exchange). The following are the chief of negotiable instruments.

- * Promissory note.
- ★ Bills of exchange.
- ★ Cheques are also included among negotiable instruments.

Bill of Exchange: The legal defination is " A bill of exchange is an instrument in writing containing an unconditional order signed by the maker, directing a certain to pay a certain sum of money only to or to the order of, a certain person or to the bearer of the instrument". It means that if an order is made in writing by one person on another directing him to pay a certain sum of money unconditionally to a certain person or according to his instructions or to the bearer and if that order is accepted by the person on whom the order made, document is a bill of exchange.

Advantages of Bills:

- ★ Presumption are the advantages of bills.
- ★ No locking of money
- ★ Source of finance
- ★ Safe and convenient means of transmitting money.
- ★ Planning by creditors.

Bills of exchange are therefore, excellent ways of granting or receiving credit. Bills of exchange of promisory notes, therefore, are excellent lubricating oils to the wheel of commerce.

Important points: A person who receives a promise to pay has got something valuable. The name given to it is bills receivable, similarly a person who has promised to pay has created a liability for him-

Endorsement of Bill: The payee of a bill may use the bill to discharge his debt to his creditor. For this purpose, he will have to transfer the ownership of the bill in favour of the creditor by means of a legal procedure. The process of transferring the ownership of bill is termed as the endorsement of bill. The person endorsing the bill is called the endorser and the person in whose favour the bill is endorsed is called the endorsee.

Dishonour of Bill: If on maturity the bill is dishonoured, the bill becomes useless at once; the liability of the acceptor comes into being. In case the bill is held till maturity, the entry will be to debt the person from whom the bill was received and credit the Bills Receivable Account.

Renewal of a bill: Sometimes, the acceptor of a bill or maker of a promissary note realises in that he cannot meet it at the time of maturity. He may therefore approach the holder with a request to let him withdraw the old bill and replace it by a new one.

Some important points:

* Bill due date

★ Bill

- * Drawee
- * Drawer
- ★ Payee
- ★ Stamps
- * Receivable amount
- * Acceptance

Trial Balance: It has been seen how every amount that is placed on the debut side of an has a corresponding entry on the credit side of some other account. This is the technical aspect of the principle of double entry system. This being the case, it is but natural that the total of the cent to ance should agree with the total of the credit balance.

Trial Balance may be described as a schedule or list of business both debit and credit. entrance from all the accounts in the ledger and including cash and bank balances taken from the cash have

Objectives of preparing trial balance:

- ★ It is a check on the accurncy of postings.
- ★ It brings at one place, the balance of all the accounts which facilitates the preparation of inst accounts.

Methods of preparing trial balance:

There are two methods of preparing a trial balance:

- * Totals Method: In this method, the totals of debit and credit sides of the ledger accounts excluding the closing balance, are shown in the trial balance.
- * Balance Method: Only the closing balances of the ledger accounts are shown in the trai has ance

Rectification of Errors: Whenever a transaction entered in Journals sometimes can be wreng a that time trial balance is not equal the debt and credit sides. Mistakes involved must be uncertained

Classification of errors: The above discussion suggest the following classification of errors

- * Errors of omssions a transaction entirely omitted from record in the original books partials omitted while posting.
- ★ Errors of commission wrong posting either of amount, or on the wrong side, or in the wrong account. An error in costing the subsidiary books also an error of commission.
- ★ Error of principle Wrong classification of expenditure or receipt
- * Compensating errors.

Errors (1), (2) and (4) can also be termed as clerical errors.

Rectification of Errors: Correction of errors, if located after sometime, is always made by a proper entry and not by simply crossing the wrong amount and inserting the right one.

From the point of view of rectification errors are of two types those that affect the trial balance and those that do not.

Correction of such errors as affect the trial balance would not be through a journal entry. Only a corrective amount placed on the proper side will suffice consider.

Final Accounts: Two main objectives of maintaining accounts are to find out the profit or intervention of the profit of intervention of the profit of the pr made by the business at the end of a regular periodic interval and to ascertain the financial possible of the business on a given date.

Final accounts are prepared to achieve these ojectives of accountancy. In order to know the proit or loss earned by a firm, income statement or trading and profit and loss account is prepared bet ance sheet or position statemint will portray the financial condition of the firm on a particular date

Final accounts includes preparation of:

- * Trading and profit and loss account
- ★ Balance sheet

Before discussing Trading and profit and loss account, it is desirable to know the following con-

- cepts. Cost of Goods sold or Merchandising cost: In order to earn income in business some money will the spent on purchasing the goods and expenses like freight, cartage etc. will be incurred to bring the goods to the shop.
 - The cost of purchasing the goods plus expenses directly related to the purchase of goods is technically known as cost of goods sold. Cost of goods sold will be deducted from the sales in order to calculate the trading profit.
 - Cost of goods sold = Opening stock + Purchases + Direct expenses Closing stock.
- 2 Gross profit: Gross profit is the excess of sales over the cost of goods sold
- 3. Gross loss : Gross loss is the excess of sales over the sales.
- 4. Operating Expenses: Operating expenses which are incurred to run the business day to day and to maintain its operational efficiency.
- 5. Net Profit: Net profit is excess of gross profit over operator expenses. It is also known as business income.
- 6. Net loss: Net loss is the excess of operating expenses over gross profit and other incomes.

Trading Account: This account is prepared to know the trading results or gross margin on trading of the business i.e. how much gross profit the business has earned from buying and selling during a particular period. The difference between the sales and cost of goods sold is gross profit.

Gross profit = Net sales - cost of goods sold.

Profit and loss Account: This account is prepared to calculate the net profit of the business, there are certain items of incomes and expenses of the business which be taken into consideration for calculating net profit of the business . These are of indirect nature that is concerning the whole business and relating to various activities which are done by the business for the purpose of making goods available to the customer.

Net profit = [Gross profit - operating + distributed expenses]

Manufacturing Account: Those concerns which convert the raw materials into finished goods are required to find out of cost of goods manufactured besides gross and net profit of the concern. These are manufacturing, cum trading concerns.

- The main objectives of manufacture A/C shows
- Cost of finished goods produced and
- * Constitute items there of such as cost of materials consumed productive wages direct and indirect expenses.

Balance sheet: A balance sheet is a statement prepared with a view to measure the financial position of a business on a certain fixed date. The financial position of a concern is indicated by its assets on a given date and its liabilities on that date.

- * Statement showing the source and application of capital.
- * It is a statement and not an account and prepared from real and personal accounts.
- * A properly drawn up balance sheet gives information relating to
 - The nature and value of assets
 - The nature and extent of liabilities
 - Whether the firm is solvent,
 - Whether the firm is overtrading

Adjustments: While preparing trading and profit and loss account one point that must be kept in ^{mind} is that expenses and income for the full trading period are to be taken into consideration. This ^{means} that if an expenses has been increased but not paid during that period, a liability for the unpaid amount should be created before the accounts can be said to show the profit or loss. Some Important adjustments which are to be made at the end of the accounting year are discussed in the following.

He said that wealth is means to satisfy human wants and not just an end in itself.

This definition was given by Marshall in his book "Principles of economics". According to him economics is a study of making in the ordinary business of life.

Robbins scarcity of Resources Definition: Robbins criticized Marshall for his normative view of economics. He gave his own definition which he called an analytical definition. In his own words "Economics is the science which studies human behaviour as a relationship between ends and scare means which have alternative uses"

Scope of Economics: The scope of economics is very vast. In economics, we study the circular flow of efforts made to satisfy wants and resulting satisfaction from these efforts.

Demand utility analysis and theory of production: Demand is one of the forces determining price. permanent of demand is related to the economic activities of a consumer called consumption. The $\frac{1}{1000}$ through which a consumer obtains the goods and services he wants to consume is known as demand.

In economics, use of the word 'demand' is made to show the relationship between the prices of a In cross and the amounts of the commodity which consumers want to purchase at those prices. wind to prof. Hibdon, "Demand means the various quantity of goods that would be purchased er time period at different prices in a given market"

Features of Demands:

- * Difference between desire and demand
- * Relationship between demand and price
- * Demand at a point of time

TYPES OF DEMAND

Derived Demand and Autonomous Demand: When the demand for one product is linked to the demand for some main product, the subsidiary product's demand is called derived demand.

Autonomous demand for a commodity is the direct demand for it from the consumers. Autonomous demand is independent of the demand for any other commodity.

Company and Industry Demand: Company demand denotes the demand for the products of a paritular company while industry demand means the demand for the product of particular industry.

Determinants of Demand: The demand for a product depends upon number of factors. We can ist some of these factors as price of the product, buyer's income, availability and price of substitutes and complements, availability of credit, geographic location of buyers, weather conditions, season of the year and preference of the buyers for and against the commodity.

Demand function: The demand function for a commodity describes the relationship between ualities of the commodity which consumers demand during specific period and the factors which influence its demand.

DETERMINANTS OF DEMAND FOR DIFFERENT GOODS

- 1. Non-Durable consumer goods:
 - ★ Purchasing power
 - ★ Price
- ★ Demography
- 2. Durable consumer goods:
 - * The law of demand: Experience tells us that ordinarily if the price of a commodity falls, the amount demanded goes up and vice-versa. There is an inverse relationship between the price of a commodity and the amount of demand. In Economics this relationship is known as the law of demand.
 - * Demand curve: The demand curve shows the maximum quantities per unit of time that consumers will take at various price. According to R.C. Lipsay "This curve, which shows the relation between the price of commodity and the amount of that commodity the consumer wishes to purchase is called demand curve."
 - * Reasons for the law of demand:
 - Law of diminishing marginal utility.

★ Degrees of price Elasticity of Demands:

- Completely inelastic demand by a straight line demand curve which is parallel to vertice axis showing price.
- Perfectly elastic demand is one, with a small change in price will cause an infinitely lage change in amount demands.
- Unitary elasticity of demand.
- Relatively elastic and inelastic demand

Cardinal Utility analysis: The basic idea of this approach is that a consumer buys that it possesse to satisfy has want.

Basic premises or assumptions of cardinal utility analysis:

- ★ The cardinal measurability of utility
- ★ Independence of utilities of different goods
- ★ Constancy of the marginal utility of money
- ★ The law of diminishing marginal utility

Equilibrium of the consumer through the law of maximum satisfaction or law of Equi-marg utility: In cardinal utility analysis, the equilibrium of consumer is given by the principle of equilibrium ginal utility

The laws of production: Supply of goods and services comes out of production and supply analysis, therefore, must be based on the theory of production. The process of production can be looked at from two different angles. From the technologist's point of view and economist's perspective on production.

★ Four factors of production - Land, Labour, Capital and organization.

Production Function: The production function formalizes the relationship between the maximum quantity of output yielded by a productive process and the quantities of the various inputs used in that process.

- ★ It is a technical relation
- ★ It has economic importance
- ★ Production functions differ from firm to firm and Industry to Industry

5.1 INTRODUCTION TO INDIAN CONTRACT ACT, 1872

The term law refers to rules of contract enforced by the state to maintain peace and order in the society. Their objective is to provide security and uniformity by regulating human actions. In the absence of law life and business will become a matter of survival not only of the fittest but also of the most ruthless since laws are backed by the authority and the power of the state, they are enforceable against all individuals irrespective of their social status

★ "Law is the body of principles recognised and applied by the state in administration of Justice" - Salamond

* "A Law is a rule of conduct imposed and enforced by the sovereign." - Austin

Meaning of Mercantile Law:

The term 'Mercantile Law' or 'Law Marchen' refers to those legal rules which govern and regulate Mercantile or business transactions the rules regulations etc. Bring a sense of seriousness and definiteness in business dealings. They provide for rules regarding the validity of making contracts and their performance. They deal with various types of contracts such as those relating to partnership, sale of goods agency, bailment indemnity and guarantee Mercantile law also includes in its fold the laws relating to the Joint stock companies, carriage of goods insurance insolvency etc.

Source of Indian mercantile Law:

- 1. English Mercantile law
- 2. Statutes of Indian legislatures
- 3. Judicial Decisions

Note: Chapter VII was removed from this law in 1930 and the sale of goods Act 1930 was passed. Chapter XI was removed in 1932 and the Indian partnership Act 1932 was passed.

Meaning of contracts:

1. "An Agreement creating and defining obligations between the parties" - Salamond

2. "A contract is an agreement enforceable at law made between two or more persons by which rights are acquired by one or more to acts or forbearance on the part of the other or others -- Šir William Anson

A relationship created between two persons with their Willingness in a serious manner to do something can be called, 'a contract' As personal of the Indian contract Act, 1872, "An agreement Enforceable by law is a contract"

The essential requirements of a contract based on the above definitions can be put as follows.

- 1. Two Parties
- 2. An Agreement
- 3. Legal Obligations

The following features of a contract should be understood properly/Essential Elements of the Valid contracts

- 1. Proposal: Proposal is the first step in the formation of a contract when one person tells other that he wants to do something and Expects the consent of the other party such Act it is called a proposal
- 2. Acceptance: According to sec 2(b), "when the person to whom a proposal is made signifies his assent thereto, the proposal is said to be accepted. A personal when accepted becomes a promise"
- 3. Consideration: When the promisor makes a proposal to do something, he requires the promisee to do something for him it is known as consideration in the promise consideration is very essential to convert a promise into an agreement.
- 4. Competent parties: The promisor and promisee should be competent to contract according to the law of the nation so as to make their agreement enforceable by law.
- 5. Free consent: The consent of the parties to the agreement should obtained with their free will and pleasure without using any force of fear. According to sec 13 "Two or more persons are said to consent when they agree upon a same thing in the same sense. "It is also known as Identify of minds" are consensus-ad-idem.
- 6. Lawful consideration and object: Existence of consideration in every agreement is essential but not sufficient. It must be a lawful consideration.
- 7. Not declared as Void: The Indian contract Act 1872 has declared five agreements as Void agreements they are not enforceable in any court of law in India even though they possess all the above seen requirements of a valid contract.
- 8. Legal Formalities: Agreement can be made either by words spoken or by words written such agreements are called "Expressed agreements." The agreements made by the actions of the agreements are called "Implied agreements" they are also valid.

REPORT

PROGRAMME:PG Entrance COACHING FOR III B.Com. aspirants in Commerce subject

In association with IQAC &In accordance with the resolution made during the meeting and documented in the minutes, it was unanimously agreed to arrange PG entrance coaching classes for interested students pursuing III B.Com (Computer Application & General). This significant decision forms an integral part of the report on the PG entrance coaching classes in Commerce subject conducted from 27 June 2022 To 21 July-2022 from 8:30 to 9:30AM and 4.30-5.30 Pm . These classes were conducted senior and expert faculty from the concerned department. B.NIRMALA Lecturer, Department of Commerce is resource person for this program.

Approximately 35 motivated students actively participated in the coaching sessions These meticulously organized classes aimed to prepare the students comprehensively for the upcoming PG entrance examinations scheduled in the month of September 2020. The coaching sessions were diligently conducted from 8:30 to 9:30Am and 4:30to 5:30 PM, adhering to a structured curriculum meticulously designed to equip students with the essential skills and knowledge required for success in the examination.

The outcomes of these coaching classes have been highly encouraging. Close to 34 students showcased exceptional performance, securing remarkable pg. ranks demonstrating both their commitment and the effectiveness of the coaching program. Furthermore, all participating students successfully qualified for the examination, marking a significant achievement resulting from our collaborative endeavor. Out of 35 students ,06 students got ranks in the PG entrance cet.

The successful arrangement of these coaching classes aligns directly with the decision made during the meeting These sessions facilitated a conducive learning environment, significantly contributing to the preparedness and success of the students preparing for the PG entrance examination.

Their dedication has been instrumental in empowering our students for academic success.
